Jerry Low Elected Board President of the National Leased Housing Association

WASHINGTON – The National Leased Housing Association (NLHA) has elected Jerry Low, Director of Acquisitions at Vitus Group, as Board President. He was elected during the association's 54th Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C., and began his one-year term on June 17. Low previously served as Vice President and Senior Vice President of the Board of Directors.

Based in Seattle, Low brings more than 30 years of sales and business development experience and nearly 17 years in affordable housing, including almost 12 years leading acquisition efforts at Vitus Group. He specializes in identifying and structuring complex preservation transactions that help ensure federally assisted affordable housing remains viable for future generations.

"Throughout my career, NLHA has been one of the most valuable places to connect with peers, hear directly from HUD officials, and stay informed about the issues shaping federally assisted housing," said Low. "I'm honored to serve as Board President and look forward to helping NLHA continue serving as a trusted resource for the federally assisted housing community."

Founded in 1972, NLHA is the leading association focused exclusively on federally assisted rental housing. Its nearly 450 public- and private-sector members include owners, developers, housing agencies, lenders, property managers, consultants, and other professionals committed to preserving and expanding affordable rental housing throughout the United States.
